

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Thursday, September 11

1997

Air War College International Officers Visit Here Thurs.

The 1997 Officer's Class of the U.S. Air Force Air War College is visiting Marshall Thursday. The officers, representing 41 countries, are led by Lt. Col. Jeff Kaloostian, director of International Officers Affairs at the Air War College. After an overview of Marshall programs, the group will tour Center facilities.

Marshall Picnic Website at
"<http://www.msfc.nasa.gov/msfcpicnic/home.html>"

Mail Handlers Benefit Plan Rep. Here
8:30 - 10:30 a.m.
Fri. in Bldg.
4202, Room 114

Combined Federal Campaign Bus Tours of Charities Begin Mon.

Bus tours of charitable organizations which will benefit from this year's Combined Federal Campaign will begin Monday. Marshall civil service employees and on-site contractors may participate. Two tours will be offered Monday, one of Christmas Charities and the Family Services Center, and one of the Association for Retarded Citizens and the American Red Cross. Buses will stop at Bldg. 4610 at 8:15 a.m. and the north loop of Bldg. 4203 at 8:30 a.m. The campaign will kickoff Sept. 29.

Mars Surveyor Orbital Arrival Is Live on NASA TV Thurs. Night

Arrival of NASA's Mars Global Surveyor in orbit around the red planet will be shown live on NASA TV. Coverage will begin with a status briefing at 7 p.m. CDT Thursday. A signal indicating the start of the 22-minute burn of the spacecraft's main rocket engine should be received at 8:31 p.m. CDT. A news briefing is scheduled for approximately 9:40 p.m. CDT. The spacecraft's mission is to orbit the planet, mapping Mars' surface and atmosphere.

Submit Exercise Challenge Log Sheets to CM21X by Fri.